

WEST LYNN PRIMARY SCHOOL

20th October 2022

She will always be happy to help out and is fully prepared to train and assist her replacement for as long as they need, but she needs to take a small step back.

Do you enjoy making posters? Writing letters? If not, not the end of the world, because Mrs. Adams has templates for these things. Printing is handled by the office at the school.

The biggest jobs are really information passing, buying (mostly online) and attending the events. Can you help Mrs. Adams? Can you be our new Friends Secretary? Please talk to the office or Mrs. Adams if you think you can help!

Black History MONTH

We have been sent a selection of books that we would like to share with you on the run up to Christmas that are recommended for children. In honour of Black History Month, we thought we would start with two that remember important UK black history events.

This hardback book is meant for readers aged 7 or above and is a visual depiction through British Black History. It starts from Roman times right through to present day and includes Roman Africans guarding Hadrian's Wall, to an African trumpeter in the court of Henry the Eighth. Black Georgians fighting for the abolishment of slavery, Windrush and much, much more.

This story of hope, love and determination by Baroness Floella Benjamin is intended for children between ages 3 - 6 years old.

It follows the story of a 10 year old Floella as she arrives in London to start her new life.

The book is full of colourful illustrations and is a inspiring tale of moving home and making friends in a scary new world.
